

National Severe Weather Warning Service

Chief Forecasters Assessment

Some areas of cloud will prevent fog development, particularly in the London area, but under clear skies, fog patches are forming and these will become fairly widespread in low lying parts of southwest England as well as across eastern England by morning. Some freezing fog is also likely, leading to frost deposits on untreated surfaces.

The Met Office have issued a Yellow Warning of Fog

Valid from 03:00 on Tue, 10th Feb 2015 until 10:00 on Tue, 10th Feb 2015

Patches of thick fog will continue to develop where skies remain clear, with the visibility falling to 50-100 metres in places and leading to difficult driving conditions. The fog will lift slowly during the morning.
